Minutes of the last Meeting

The meeting was called to order by President Jay Stanley. 31 people attended, including guests Bill and Tracy Starkey, Trevor and Ashley Campbell, and Lois Swatland and her son.

Treasurer's Report—Ivan was absent and George gave the report on his behalf. We have $1701 in the bank. Deposit for the hands-on at the Hosaluk workshop will be $75, and a sign up sheet will be passed around.

Old Business

Beads of Courage bowls need to be 6” in diameter and 4” deep, as well as kid safe. We will collect this year's donations at the May meeting.

We had a brief discussion of potential sponsorship for the Hosaluk workshop.

New Business

We have been by an individual who would like someone with experience to repair the tambour on an antique roll top desk he has purchased. Anyone interested, please contact Dean.

Raffle—several new contributions have been made to the prize box, so we have a pretty good selection for the winner. Thanks to those members who have contributed.

Show and Tell—we had a great array of excellent projects. Cory Kelley brought a banjo he had made, and Jim Larson showed an offset turning that he had dyed. Nice to see an old fart trying new tricks, Jim!

Demo

We showed a 10 minute portion of Michael Hosaluk's instructional DVD to give people a chance to see what he might have to offer us.

Jay then Demonstrated how he makes square sided shallow bowls/platters. One of the take home tips is to glue waste wood to the sides to protect the edges. Figuring out how to get a uniform thickness seemed like magic to me, but Jay managed to do just that.
